Not all change is positive. Not all of it deals with uncomplicated matters. It happens that the subject of changes are situations for which we are not completely prepared for.

What if your pay will be cut down by 20%? What would you do if you suddenly had to move from one end of Poland to the other?

If the company in which you have been working for years and occupying a great position suddenly wanted to promote you, but it would involve the need to move 500 km from the place of residence where you currently operate?
