

TASK 4

It often happens that certain norms, values and specific elements of our own culture are invisible to us - we are so used to them that we hardly notice them.

Think about your own culture.

Describe its norms, values and standards.

Think about which elements of your culture may be incomprehensible and difficult to understand for people from another culture and why.

TASK 4

If you find it difficult to describe your own culture, consider:

- relationships with animals,
- the rhythm of work,
- patterns of group decision making,
- eye contact,
- the nature of friendships,
- body language,
- facial expressions,
- conversational patterns,
- tone of voice,
- the concept of cleanliness